

Welcome to Along

Cultivate an inclusive, engaging classroom to support student learning.

Along is a teacher-student connection builder that helps quickly build the strong ties needed to create and maintain trust year-round.

Through Along, students can share insights on how they're experiencing the classroom environment so teachers can apply their input to drive engagement and support student outcomes.

How it works

With Along, it's as simple as Ask, Reflect, Act.

Ask

An educator selects a question from Along's research-informed library or creates their own and invites students to respond. A mix of open-ended and scaffolded questions give students an opportunity to share about themselves and their experiences so teachers get to know them better and build an understanding of what works for them in the classroom.

Reflect

Once students have responded, the educator reviews individual responses as well as class-wide data, with support from Along in reflecting on what students want and need.

Act

Using insights and recommendations from Along, the educator then responds to students and makes adjustments to instruction to cultivate an inclusive environment — showing students their voices are valued.

To learn more, visit our website at along.org